

I CLAIM:

1. A connecting plate of a multi-layers IC board including the connecting 5 plate being provided one end with an engaging step having bottom inclined sides to connect with another engaging step having two inclined sides of another connecting plate for shortening the length of the assembly.